ERITME OFFER THE OHLO.

Mr. Morton called up the bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Obioriver, recently published.

Mr. Van Winkle opposed it, arguing that the proposed span of 500 feet was impracticable and dangerous. It was aimed, he said, at two bridges now building.

Mr. Morton replied that he had submitted the teatimony of the merchanis and Beard of Trade of Cincinnati and Pittsburg and pilots of the Ohio river as a petition to this body, showing the necessity of protection of navigation. CARPET-BAGGERS.

Mr. Moorehead made a statement in reference to the tux b.ll. He stated that, ou consultation with friends, and especially the Committee of Ways and Moans, this morning, it had been coucluded that at this late etage of the session it was better not to antagonize the business before the Houre, and it was very certain that the tariff bill, if passed by the Ilouse, could not pass the Senate at this session. He had consulted within the last two or three days members of the Finance Committee of the Senate, and was satisfied, even if the House passed the bill, the Senate would not take it up and act on it.

FORETEETH AMENDMENT.

The Speaker presented a communica-

mittee of the Senate, and was satisfied, even if the House passed the bill, the Senate would not take it up and act on it. The tariff men had reason to feel very grateful to the House for the strong support the measure had received, every time having heen a test vote. He therefore felt willing that it should remain until the next session, and desired the Speaker to state what position the bill would or cupy when Congress assembled.

The Speaker replied that the tariff bill was now the antinished business in Committee of the Whole, and when the House went into Committee of the Whole at the commencement of next session, it would be the first husinessin order.

Mr. Moorchead anid, with the statement of the Speaker I am willing to leave the bill just where it is. I therefore give no it ties that I will not call it np again this session.

The Central Pacific and Southern branches of the Pacific road will ran nearly in a direct line, via Baltimore, to New York, and oar port will, therefore, have the advantage over New York of the destance between the two cities. I sit, therefore, extravagant to predict that the silks and teas, and the other priceless products of the East, will, in a great measure, find their way to Europe through Baltimore? Am I not right, then, when I say that large and extensive as onr city is, she is, in these respects, but in her infancy. We republish this morning, from the ust-issued number of Putnam's Monthly n uncommonly interesting account of be Gaines case. It is the first contin carrative we have seen of the greatest aw-suit in the annals of litigation "When hereafter some distinguished American lawyer shall retire from his practice to write the bistory of his coun cy's jurisprudence," said Judge Wayne ight years ago from the heach of the supreme Court, 'this case will be regist-red by him as the most remarkable in the records of the courts." As treated in the article which we transcribe from Pu am it is remautic rather than legal. Bu it is not less reliable on that account, and can not fail to be perused by thousands who are familiar with the subject, but not with its sirgular history.

A correspondent of the German radical paper in Chicago admits that Gen Grant's order hanishing the Jews was an outrage, but thinks it would be all right for it. No. it would not be all right, nor holf right, though Grant and every other member of the radical party should each offer a thousand apologies. It is too late for such an atonement. There never has been a time since the order was issued when an apolegy would have robbed it o its infamy, and to offer such au apology cw would be to add insult to it jury. would simply he a sneaking attempt to buy the Jewish vote, and we are greatly istaken in the tone and temper of the lewish character if that vote can be

The Washington Republican say the newly negro-elected Mayor Bowen that city:

He stands pledged, whether in or out of he board, to use his best efforts in behalf if the colored people, and they may rely pon it that his hest energies will be de-ored to their service. This is one of the chief faults of all adical office-holders-they ignore the white man and devote their best energies the service of the negro.

THE SITUATION.

At a meeting of the Nashville Blood Herse Association, yesterday, a pro-Naver perhaps has a nomination, which took so many by surprise and ran connect to the hopes of such a number of partisans as that of Seymour and Blair, created a reaction so manifest and decided as we have witnessed in this city during the past week. I now begin to think we are going to repeat the pleasant apectacle of 1852, when Pierce, an obscurer man at that time than Seymour is now, but nominated at Balimore very much as Seymour was nominated at Nav York, walked over the conrecagainst poor old Winfield Scott.

The weather reminds me of the little and cative variety of pol-Naver perhaps has a nomination

Hendricks helps to beat Pendleton for the nomination; Pendleton turns about and says, "Well, you shan't have it, any how," and Hendricks cossoles himself with the thought of having four years before him in which to impress his pretensions on the heart of the Western Democratic masses. Doubtless he will!

some instances, appointing them to office in his infamous militia. The law has cessed to be a terror to villainy, and her ce the citizens in some sections occa-sionally make laws of their own, from slouslly make laws of their own, from whose sentence there is no appeal, and from whose penalty there is no escape. Thus it was with the people of the neigh-borhood in which the negro in question committed the crime. Night before last make first-rate speeches. He is a cool othing, I tell you. Full of energy, ambition, and experience, he is pretty sure to a number of them went to the jail, took make his mark.

MARD ON ENTIRE.

As Ben Butler was walking up Sevanth street the other morning he passed a shop where a lot of second hand household farmitter was being sold at anction. He is an acquisitive man, and, like Mrs.

Toodles, has an eye for a good bargain, furniture was being sold at another. He is an acquisitive man, and, like Mrs. Toodles, has an eye for a good bargain, no other way to protect themselves against the villainy of the white and black cut-throats be has educated and li-censed to commit the darkest of crimes. so he stopped before the entrance. Just as he crossed the door-sill the crier haid up a bundle and called ont: "Now we othese fine silver spoons. Splen-rticle. Good as new, Who Who bids?" The crier rattled There is more blood upon his hands toon thus for a minute without get-ting an answer, when, being entire-ly meconscious of so distinguished a presence, be observed fretfully, "Well, you're a mighty keerful crowd! You must think these is a some of the day than all the rain in the aweet heavmust think these is some of the spoons Butler stole at New Orleans," Just here Butler atole at New Orleans." Just here the General was recognized, and, amid a shout of merriment, beat a hasty and somewhat skulking retreat. He ought to be very circumspect about auctions. To men in his situation they sometimes raise as many apparitions as church-yards. There as as much territying, ghostly material in a brace of silver apoons as in a death's head, and a great deal more causs for serious alarm to men like him.

death's bead, and a great deal more cause for serious alarm to men like him.

Reverdy Johnson has taken his farewell of the Senste and his fallow-citizena, and will presently be half-wayover the Atlantic. They will recrive him in England as they have not received an American Minister for many a day. The feeling between the two countries is fastitiously amisable and curiously delicate. Both profess a deal of friendilinees which is not altogether insincere, and each expects, by an excess of contrexy, to make something considerable. Seward wants the Alabama settlement to go off smoothly. The English Government wants to save whatever it can out of that inckless complication. So, they bow and smile, like a couple of litigants who prefer a compromise to a law-enit. Reverdy Johnson goes therefore at a good time, and ho a very proper man for the consion. Well known abroad as a statesman, and possessed of abilities that are not overrated; nrbane and genial; a quick man-ol-business; an expert jurist; a pleasant dinner companion and afterdinner speaker; off-hand, witty, he will realize all the expectations that await him He is as cultivated as Everett bui not so ceremonial; as imposing as Charles Francia Adama, but not so colemn. The history of his mission throughout will be that of a graceful finish to a career, not brilliant, but pre-eminently graceful and neeful.

Although Congress has not adjourned, Washington begins to wear its mid-sumfor serious alarm to men like him.

Another Important Connection, run luating on "the anithesia of hypothesis or the wherefore," we bounced egainst an old friend whom we left ten gents ago looking at John Phoenix fish-ing off of the end of the miserable boat that plies between Alexandria and Wash-Early in April last, through the Lonisgten. To see him was at once to a an attitude, and then proceed to fold his fragile form to our manly bosom. After properly dining and wining him (the hing to do, you know, when you meet he man who airs you in his drag and cur-in-hand in Central Park every time e catches you in New York), we said, w. my ijon-hearted boy, for a drive. o we got a pair of very good beasts and ather a shaky vehicle and started out a high teather. Up to this moment, wever, it had never occurred to the etched holder of the ribbons where ha should drive his friend. Wa knew he had been poking atont abroad for ten years and had done all of the celebrated rives and parks of the old and new world. So here was a pretty piece of theiresa. But we resolutely determined to rut a bold face on the thing and went cut Fourth and down Broadway.

Havn't any city park? Well, then, show me a tew of our rublic squares. I suppose you lave exhausted yourselves on them." liaven't a public square," we faintly id. "No public equare? Well this is egular do. What the deuce do you teem by taking me ont to drive in a street tor? I thought at least that 'you couldn't give me a turn in the ik and let me take a look at your peo , that we might see something in the way of a haudsome public equare that would do instead. Never mind the park and squares, old bey; now you just drive to one of your public gardens, said we will take a peep into the conservatories, get aome flowers, and then go lack to my hotel, and we will have a quiet bottle of Johannieberg fogether." With great meekness we admitted there was no first-team public carden that he would care to iass public garden that he would care to ee. So we drove back to the hotel and ceeded to make onreelves comfortable nd to refresh the inner man. As we bid arewell to our friend he said, "I'll look non yon again in the curse of a few yesrs. Meantime, a line will find me at my banker's, John Mnnroe & Co., in 'arls. Writa to me, falr youth, and reember-dou't forget the park, and goodye, oid fellow; God bless you—don't torect the equares;" and he laughed until the teers ran out of his honest eyes, and the next moment he was whisked away in the cars.

About three months ago a negro man where name is R. Stockdil, while in tha employ of Dr. Walling, obtained a pass-book from a grocery keepsr in Portland by telling the man that Mrs. Dr. Walling ad instructed him to get it. After getbill for dry goods and groceries, which amounted to a considerable sum before hewas detected. For this offense he was indicted and held to answer by Judge Craig in the sum of four hundred dollars the amount was reduced sicerwards to the sum of two hundred dollars hy Judga Johnson. The bail was given, hut when the case was called in the Criminal Court Stockdil did not sppear, and it was enpposed that his hal was forfetted. Since then nothing has been heard of him until yesterday he was registered at the West end Station house, charged with forging an order fo groceries in Dr. Walling's name, on Mr. Smiley, who keeps a family grocery on the corner of Eighteenth and Grayson streets. The articles obtained amounted n value to aix doliars and fity cents.

Opinion in Bankruptcy.

By the Honorable Bland Ballard, Judge District Court of the United States for the District Court of the United States for the District Court of the United States for the District of Kentneky—in the matter of Henry Wrisd', bankrupt,

This is an agreed cess between the assignee and a creditor of the hankrupt.

The agreed facts show that the beakrupt at the time he filed his petition in herkruptcy and for several months prior thereto carried on husiness as a greer in a store-house leased from the creditor, Prelifer, at a monthly rent of $33; that at the time of the filing of the petition there was due the landlord for rent $165; that Prelifer has proven his debt and claims that it "should be paid in full out of the preceds of the said of the bankrupt contained in said store-house at the time of the filing of his petition in hankruptey, and that stock of goods when taken and sold by the assignee ere taken and sold subject to the landlord's lien."

The assignee claims "that said dath " " is not a lieu upon the personal property of the bankrupt, " and that the same should only be paid protout with the remaining creditors of the said estate."

It is manifest that no judgment can be rendered on these agreed facts. It does not appear from them that the assignee has teken possession of the stock of goods in the store referred to, much less does it appear that he has sold that goods or that they are even worth that amount claimed by the landlord. No judgment can there n the store referred to, much less does it appear that he less sold the goods or that hey are even worth that amount claimed by the landlord. No judgment can therefore be rendered against the assignee in favor of the landlord tor his debt, even if it be assumed that he besthe llen rialmed by him; nothing can be decided, on the facts agreed, except that the creditor has crias not a lien; but such a decision would settle nothing. It would be simply the expression of an abstract opinion by the court, which would not bind either the court; or the parties. In my opinion every agreed case must present such facts as that the court can render a final judgment thereon.

True, section 6 of the Bankruptcy act provides that, "in any bankruptcy, or in any other proceedings within the jurisdiction of the court under this so", the jurisdiction, may at any stage of the proarties concerned, or submitted to such urisdiction, may at any stage of the prounsdiction, may at any stage of the pro-sedings, by consent, state any question or nections in a special case for the opinion of the court; and the judgment of the ourt shall be final unless," acc. But the question must be stated in a pecial case, and must be stated in such ourn as to authorize a judgment for one arry or the other, and not merely the ex-pression by the court of an abstract opin-

Train.

An Attempt at His own Lile.

George Frencis Train writes to the Calculating the difficulty how to begin with my Ben Eutler eye on the lager's immortal, I might commence: "I was born at the age of twenty one without parants, and had it not bee or a kind Providence and a few othe riends, I should have been as ignorants to common people, or even as you to utlemen. The fact is, I am not up to gutlemen. The fact is, I am not up to this work; naturally sensitive, constitutionally diffident, with a shrinking from the public gaze since my sarliest Infancy, i can hardly muster up courage to write about myself. But you have asked it, and it may help to use up my dreary lite in jail. The family were Methodists, living for generations under the same ancestral roof in Waltham, Massachusetts. The New Eugland Conterence used for meet there. You will see the old farm house, in the preface of Stevens' illistory of Methodism—Stevens, of the Zon's Herald, who so many times has been to the home of my child book, and drenk from that old caken bucket thet hangs in the well. My mother was a beautrul woman. My safter was a man of intellect and education. That accounts, etc.—modesty forbids.

There is to be en especial meeting of the Board of Trade on 'Change to-day, to the Board of Trade on Change to day, to receive and act upon the report of the committee to whom the above-mentioned important measures were reterred. A full attendance and prompt ratification of the report of the committee should be the result. With such public spirited men as the members of the committee, particu iarly the chairman, Thos. J. Tapp, Esq whose labors in the cause have been con nterests of Loniaville will always be advanced. We hope some of our young tolks will not consider us hard on them if we make a frank comment upon some of their pe-culturities of menuer in public places of worship and amusement. For instance, few things are in worse taste than for a young lady to be langhing and talking, or looking all around her during divine or looking all around her during divine worship. The demeanor of a web-ired young woman is never so evinced as by her conduct and manner in public. Whatever you do then, avoid as you would the greatest impropristy, the abominshie habit of talking and laughing loud. Nothing is so ill-ired, nothing so low. People can make themseives heard without all of the violence of speech and manner that offends quiet tokis every day. It is neterly unnecessary to speak or langh as lond as we all hear people do every day, and when loud talking is every day, and when loud talking conpied with bad grammar or slang, the effect is too odious to think of. One of the first things that ought to be taught and inculcated in all of our public and private schools, it the habit of speaking low and gently.

man or women of culture and refinement is at once known by the measurer of speech and the intonation of the voice in talking and the intonation of the voice in taking. The men of weight is this world are the quiet people. The hollowing, bellowing men and screeching, giggling woman never accomplished anything. They are in "sound and fury, signifying nothing."

Whatever, then, society has found will not do, it taboos, and therefore it frown a nom "foundessa" whether of dress voices. npon "ioudness," whether of dress, voice or manner. There are, it is true, a gres or, manner. Anere are, it is true, a great many very worthy people who do talk as if you were across the river, when you may not be two feet from them; but these exemplary beings, who are so trusted and respected for their homely virtues, never-Leices offend your ear most grievonaly > form it altogether. There are two oppressiva evils that our people must endure in the 'urne as they have in the past, unless an ordinance is passed by our City Conneil, recognizing them as misdemeanors, and providing a punishment. We refer to this habit of vapanament. We refer to the habit of va-grant negro wanches walking our atreets for nearly two thirds of every night in the week, "plying their vocation." The cause for the other compraint is the sa-semblage on various corners in the city of all the graceless scamps of the different neighborhoods, who enjoy themselves by cutting "pigeon wings," making vulgar neighborhood, who enjoy themselves by cutting "pigeon wlegs," making vulgar and obscene remarks to and about every girl or woman that passes by where they cougregate. Do not the commercial interests receive from Congress opposition to either raquests or protests, and are not our noble Representatives consistent in acting the sems with the producing interests? Do they not generally force upon no gifts in return for our toil, and need we hewait tien that our bread and meat are wasted? No. We don't appreciate our Congressmen; they labor interestedly, with a deep and abliding interest, for that which brings the greatest reward to their pockets. God blese them.
